Sorry Bill,

The version I sent you earlier was not the correct version.

Please find the version that was sent to CRT. It included the DOI as outlined below.

Best Wishes

Ashley, I thought we had moved to the Declaration shown below?

Hi Ashley,

The litigation statement is OK, with the caveat that we will need to re-examine it right before publication, because it is within the realm of possibility that one or more of the experts could get tapped by attorneys down the road -- I don't expect that to happen, but we need to be cognizant that it could happen.

Yeah, I don't know why there's 'feet-dragging' -- they already saw and approved the important pieces...

Thanks,

Bill

Hi Bill,

I sent the declaration of interest statement to Roger this morning and he called me to make some revisions. Please see below. He wanted a statement included about litigation procedures so I added a sentence to this effect.

Please could you take a look and let me know if this is okay?

The authors of the manuscript is as shown on the cover page. The authors had sole responsibility for the writing and the content of the article, and the interpretations and opinions expressed in the paper are those of the authors.

Gary Williams, Sir Colin Berry, David Brusick, João Lauro Viana de Camargo, Helmut Greim, David Kirkland, Keith Solomon and Tom Sorahan have previously served as independent consultants for the Monsanto Company or the European Glyphosate Task Force. John Acquavella and Larry Kier were previously employees of the Monsanto Company. Marilyn Aardema, Michele Burns, David Garabrant, Gary Marsh, Ashley Roberts and Douglas Weed have not previously been employed the Monsanto Company or previously been involved in any activity involving glyphosate and as such declare no potential conflicts of interest. Furthermore, none of the afore mentioned authors have been involved in any litigation procedures involving glyphosate.

The Expert Panel Members recruitment and evaluation of the data was organized and conducted by Intertek Scientific & Regulatory Consultancy (Intertek). The Expert Panelists acted as consultants for Intertek. Intertek (previously Cantox) is a consultancy firm that provides scientific and regulatory advice, as well as safety and efficacy evaluations for the chemical, food and pharmaceutical industries. While Intertek Scientific & Regulatory Consultancy has not previously worked on glyphosate related matters for the Monsanto company, previous employees of Cantox had worked in this capacity.

Funding for this evaluation was provided by the Monsanto Company which is a primary producer of glyphosate and products containing this active ingredient. Neither any Monsanto company employees nor any attorney reviewed any of the Expert Panel's manuscripts prior to submission to the journal.

I was also hoping to send to Roger today the final introductory paper but I received an email from Doug Weed saying he will look at it over the weekend. It is amazing I thought I had given them a deadline of today!!!

Thanks

Ashley

Hi Ashley,

I would really like the one phrase retained which is shown below in bold green font.

I understand why you have added the bit about CanTox – agree we should just address it upfront.

Thanks much,

Bill

Hi Bill,

Please see below. This would be the DOI for the introductory paper. I would then amend the names accordingly for the 4 main articles in the journal.

Please let me know if this works or whether you feel that additional edits are required. I added the bit in about "Cantox", because a Canadian journalist had called out the fact that Ian Munro had previously worked with Monsanto on the glyphosate project, so I did not want this to become a potential issue in the future and thought it best to outline upfront.

Cheers

Ashley
